2023 SEASON

WELCOME TO ST JOHN'S SMITH SQUARE

---

Welcome to our musical centre in the heart of Westminster.

As winter turns to spring, we have a new Season full of exciting and varied events.

Southbank Sinfonia presents works from Beethoven to Beamish and invite you to explore and learn with them. Meanwhile, our Crypt Classics return, as well as a new series of late-night Jazz sessions. Yoga with live harp continues once a month, and there are events for all age groups with our Family Concerts, Musical Zoo Workshops, and Teatime Treats.

Our Thursday Lunchtime Concert Series remain a staple of our programming, and The Footstool Cafe will be serving pies, quiches, and sandwiches, as well as hot and cold drinks, each weekday from 10am - 5pm. Why not combine a lunch with friends, followed by some wonderful music?

Last, but not least, our Easter Festival and the London Festival of Baroque Music return with internationally and nationally renowned groups coming to perform both timeless and contemporary repertoire.

We look forward to giving you a warm welcome and inspiring experiences here at St John's Smith Square.

B

Explore Baroque music in all its forms

12 - 20 May 2023

The London Festival of Baroque Music 2023: Kaleidoscope is an exploration of the many shapes and sizes that Baroque music was written for. We are delighted to welcome groups from Spain and France to the stage of St John's Smith Square to play music by composers such as Cristóbal de Morales, Juan Hidalgo, and José Castel. Baroque favourites, Lully, Handel, and Telemann, will also be performed across the week.

The Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment (OAE) returns to St John' Smith Square, first to work with Southbank Sinfonia in side-by-side workshops which will culminate in a cabaret performance on Thursday 18 May, and then to perform their own baroque chamber programme on Friday 19 May. Principal keyboard of the OAE, Steven Devine, will be hosting a Meet the Harpsichord Day on Saturday 20 May, with an array of events for all age groups.

Come and explore with us – many excellent dance tunes await in this year's Festival and we can't wait to share them with you!
